

User Manual: Overview

This is an extremely broad overview of what this application does. For more information, see the other files in the user guide folder.

Profiles

What They Can Do

A profile can subscribe to any number of existing topic to receive notifications when a new message is posted to that topic. A profile can also own any number of topics that it can manage and publish messages to.

Topics

What They Can Do

A topic can have messages published to it manually or automatically. They have a welcome message that can be changed to your heart's desire, and a history of every message sent on that topic can be viewed by the owner.

Subscriptions

What They Can Do

A subscription can allow you to receive message from a topic and be notified about them. A history of the messages you've received from the topic can be viewed. You can unsubscribe from a topic at any time.
