

User Manual: Log In

Logging In

When the application starts, you'll need to either select an existing profile to use or create a new one.

Select Existing Profile

If you want to use an existing profile, simply select one from the start up menu. Once you do, you'll be brought to the main menu. It's that easy! You don't even need a password (nervous laughter)!

Create New Profile

If you want to create a new profile, select to option to do so on the start up menu instead of selecting an existing profile. You will be asked to enter a username for the profile. Enter anything you like. If what you enter is invalid, it will tell you. After that, you'll be brought to the main menu. It's as easy as that!